PROSPECTUS OF
THOS. H. BENTON'S GREAT WORK.
THIRTY YEARS VIEW, of the workings of the American Government. Published by D. APPLETON & CO., New York, and sold exclusively by subscription.
During the last thirty years there has been no important public measure in which this active and distinguished statesman has not taken an active and decisive part, and been familiar with the influences, whether secret or public, which have urged forward or opposed each. He is therefore well qualified to write the history of this period.
This work will be completed in two volumes, the first of which will be published early in the year 1854, and will be brought down to the close of the administration of Gen. Jackson, and will thus form a complete work by itself, containing about 700 double column, royal 8 vo. pages, and a superbly engraved portrait of Senator Benton.
☞ Price $2 50, payable on delivery of the book.
☞ The book of subscription, together with specimen sheets, can be found at the law office of Messrs. TUCKER & GARVEY, and the Agent will soon give an opportunity to persons desirous of subscribing to do so at their residences and places of business throughout the city and county. dec29

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Prairie and River!
Proclaim the glad tidings—Goods cheaper than ever!
IN VIEW of the luxuriant crops in all the great staples of our young and glorious State, and the good prices they at present command, and the consequent increased ability of our farmers to buy, as well as the increased activity of business generally among all classes, the subscriber has been induced to make extra preparations for a large and extensive trade. In anticipation of this increased demand for Dry Goods, he has spent a portion of the past summer and fall east, where he has been engaged in buying one of the largest and most varied stock of Dry Goods that has ever yet brought into Wisconsin. In buying those Goods he has taken the utmost pains in selecting the best and most fashionable styles and qualities.
His purchases have been made by the Bale, Case and Package direct of the Manufacturers or their Agents, the Importers and at Auction. His facilities for buying fully warrant him in saying that they are equalled but by few, and excelled by none in the trade. The old maxim, that "Goods well bought are half sold," has governed him in his purchases. And knowing that he buys as low, he is determined not to be undersold in a fair and legitimate way. Come then, all you who are weary and heavy laden with the yellow coin, or even those who with good promises to pay, and we will give you rest and impart comfort to those who are hungry and naked, by selling goods cheaper than ever.
☞ This fact we desire to keep prominently and permanently before the People—THAT WE DO NOT PERMIT OURSELVES UNDER ANY REASONABLE CIRCUMSTANCES TO BE UNDERSOLD. Remember it.

Sick and in prison.
BY ALICE CAREY

Wildly falls the night around me,
Chains I cannot break have bound me,
Spirits unrebuked, undriven
From before me, darken heaven;
Creeds bewilder, and the saying
Unfelt prayers, makes need of praying

In the bitter anguish lying,
Only thou wilt hear me crying—
Thou, whose hands wash white the erring
As the wool is at the shearing,
Not with dulcimer or psalter,
But with tears, I seek thy altar

Feet that trod the mount so weary,
Eyes that pitying looked on Mary,
Hands that brought the Father's blessing,
Heads of little children pressing,
Voice that said,—"Behold thy mother,"
Lo, I seek ye and none other

Look, O sweetest eyes of pity
Out of Zion, the glorious city,
Speak, O voice of mercy, sweetly,
Hide me, hands of love, completely
Sick, in prison, lying lonely,
Ye can lift me up, ye only

In my hot brow soothe the aching,
In my sad heart stay the breaking,
On my lips the murmur trembling,
Change to praises undissembling.
Make me wise as the evangels,
Clothe me with the wings of angels

Power that made the few loaves many,
Power that blessed the wine at Cana,
Power that said to Lazarus, "waken"
Leave, O leave me not forsaken!
Sick and hungry, and in prison,
Save me crucified and risen

Never despise a girl because she is poor. If her face is pretty, her heart pure, her head well filled, her affections fresh, and she dresses passably well, regard her as favorably as you would Queen Victoria, or the wealthy Miss Goldflower. In fact, we think better of poor girls than of most others. They are most always sure to make you a good wife, bake good bread, sleep on the North side of the bed in the winter, and have something very important to do at home about the time you feel like caling on the pretty Misses Smith, Brown or Baldwins. Poor girls and rich comforts, like country meeting houses and bad singing, go together.—Albany Transcript

A Happy Illustration.—Elder Knapp occasionally gets off a good thing, notwithstanding his bad ones. He was one evening speaking of the prevailing tendencies of some religionists to long prayers, and remarked that we could find no example for these in the Scriptures.— The prayers of our saviour were short and to the point. The prayer of the penitent publican was a happy specimen. When Peter was endeavoring to walk upon the waters to meet his master, and was about sinking, had his supplication been as long as the introduction to one of our modern prayers, before he had got half through he would have been fifty feet under water.

Electrical Retort.—Our friend B—— was travelling lately in the cars, when a man came up and asked for his fare. "Who are you?" said B——. "I? my name is Wood, and I am the Conductor." "Oh," says B——, very quietly, "that can't be, for Wood is a non-conductor."

Music rather unfits a man for wrestling with the world. It softens the heart, and robs him of suspicion. Show us a flageolet player, and we will show you a man who is "cheated in his change" every time he goes to market.

The Chief of ancient philosophers, being reproached for giving money to a bad man who was in want, answered, with his usual accuracy of distinction: "I did not give to the man but to humanity."

Sound and sufficient reason falls to the share of but few men, and those few men exert their influence in silence.

A man can get along without advertising, and so can a wagon without greasing, but it goes hard.

BOOTH'S INK FOR SCHOOLS.
EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 29, 1853.
W. W. BOOTH
Dear Sir—I feel myself to be under weighty obligations to you for the dozen bottles of your Superior Black Ink. Several bottles are being used in my school, with most gratifying satisfaction. We hear not that common complaint of "poor pens," which we so often hear where an inferior or ordinary article of ink is used. The set, lively, black, and shining smooth surface, clean, that gives it a superiority over other articles of the same name, but the readiness with which it always flows from the pen, and the property which effectually prevents metallic pens from corroding, under all ordinary circumstances. I can most cheerfully recommend its introduction into our primary schools as being precisely adapted to the use of children.

Will the Nebraska Bill Pass?

The following article from the National Era, edited by Dr. Bailey, who is on the ground, and who is one of the most sagacious and candid editors in the country, shows the danger to which our Free Territory is exposed. Read and ponder, Freemen of Wisconsin:

"What of the Night?"

It is right to speak plainly: the chances are that the Missouri Compromise will be repealed. Twelve men in the Senate, clear-sighted, firm, courageous, united, acting with method, could either defeat the project of repeal in that body, or damage it so much as to secure its defeat in the House. They could propose amendments calculated to bring out the true nature of the scheme, its bearings, the motives which originated it, and the consequences to which it may lead, and then, by a yea and nay vote, compel its supporters to reveal their real views and purposes to the country. They could turn the tables upon the schemers, and, as they have reopened the issues of 1850, compel them to record their votes upon propositions to repeal the abominable Fugitive Law, and to abolish Slavery in the District of Columbia. They could delay the measure long enough to allow the People time to pass judgment upon it, and instruct their Representatives in relation to it.—But, twelve such men in the Senate are not to be found.

The Democratic Senators from the free States, generally, under the influence of the Administration, or committed to the support of Presidential aspirants whose interest, are involved in the measure, and, moreover, habituated to submission to the Slave Interest, are either conniving at or actually supporting the Bill. The Whig members from the North, generally, although unfriendly to it, are without wisdom in counsel, unity in action, or firmness in purpose. There are a few noble exceptions, on both sides of the Chamber, and these, with the two Free Soil or Independent Democratic Senators, constitute the only working force against the scheme.

Some Democratic Senators who voted in 1848, 49, 50, to exclude Slavery from the Territory acquired from Mexico, now go for a Bill which proposes to open all our Territories to Slavery—and they represent, too, constituencies signalized two years ago by devotion to the Wilmot Proviso. One Senator, instructed by the Legislature of his State to oppose the Bill, declines to do so, and, we have heard, intends to vote for it; moved, we suppose, by profound respect for the principle of popular self government!

As to the South, let no one expect miracles. Whatever may be individual inclination, the necessities of the slaveholding caste will overrule it. The individual members of an Oligarchy, or an Aristocracy, or a Caste, are themselves bound by the will of the whole, and their will is the result of the aggregate ambitions and necessities of all. The Slaveholder is himself the slave of the Slave Power.

Mr. Badger, it is said, is opposed to the Bill, and Messrs. Houston and Bell, it is rumored, are willing to see it defeated; but they all voted against the motion of Mr. Chase to strike out the false averment in the 14th section, although they did not believe it, thus encouraging the Caucus arrangement, by which motions to amend, whatever their character, emanating from the opponents of the measure, are to be voted down.

Mr. Houston will oppose the Bill, probably, for the ostensible reason that it may operate unfavorably upon the interests of the Indians—his hostility to the Central Route for the Pacific Railroad, the prospect of which may be improved by the organization of Nebraska, may have more to do with his cause; and, we have no doubt, he is quite willing that the North should feel obliged to him for the fact of his opposition, whatever may be the real motive.

Were the North true to itself at this crisis, it would find honorable men in the South coming out openly against the repeal of the Compromise of 1820. Its own disloyalty leaves such men no ground to stand upon. Two Southern Senators were conversing, a few days ago, on this scheme. Both agreed that it was wrong, but one was particularly anxious to persuade the other to take open ground in the Senate with him against it. At last, the Senator appealed to, exclaimed, "Sir, where is your North? This scheme is proposed by a Committee, of which the majority are Northern men—advocated by its chairman, a Northern man—urged by the President, a Northern man. If we oppose it, where is the North to sustain us? And we know that in the South we shall be doomed."

Ay!—and let the question cause the cheek of every Northern man to tingle with shame—we repeat, "Where is your North?"

In relation to the House, there may be more ground for encouragement; but as at present advised, we cannot rely upon it. The tacticians of the Senate have adroitly stricken from the Bill the portion providing for appropriations, so that should it reach the House, it may not be necessary to refer it to the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union. The floor may be given to a daring manager, and the screw of the previous question be at once applied.

It was rumored at one time that the Democratic members from Ohio, and also from New York, had agreed to oppose the scheme.—Whether this were true or not, we do not believe that at present they have any common understanding. "Give us the Bill of last session," said one to a Democratic member from Ohio, a Wilmot Proviso man in 1848 and 1850. "Of course," was the answer; "that would suit me; but I am not prepared to say that I will not go for a different bill!"

"How many of the 'Softs' can be depended upon?" was a question put to a New York member. "Three, certainly; but as for the rest!"

——One of them was heard to remark that "he knew it would be political death for him to vote for repeal, but he had made up his mind and would go it."

Looking beyond Congress, what do we see? Democratic editors, two years ago flaming in their denunciations of Slavery, now either dumb, or sneering at the "Abolition confederates" for trying to frighten the people with scarecrows. Oh, Executive patronage is almighty with men of a certain character. One of these was bought with an office, valued at $2,000 a year, another for one estimated at $1,500. The price of these slaves ranges from two hundred and fifty dollars up to twenty-five hundred; and from a mail agency to a foreign mission.

We write with mingled feelings of bitterness and shame: Would to God there was no reason for it! Men of the so-called Free States, behold the fruit of your no-agitation, your peace and harmony, your healing Compromises, and your Baltimore finalities!

A MEETING to protest against the Nebraska swindle is to be held at Fond du Lac on Saturday evening next.

"HIRELING STATES."—The Richmond Whig; in urging the passage of the Nebraska Bill, uses the following insulting language toward the North. It ought to open the eyes of the North:

"The Southern States have an equal right with the North to all the Territories of the Union, and we would maintain it on every proper occasion. There is nothing in the social or moral organization of the hireling States, which entitles them to a superiority over us. We don't want a war of words about it, but the thing itself we will not surrender."

CONGRESSIONAL.—Senate.—The French Spoliation Bill passed yesterday. On Tuesday, the nomination of Geo. Sanders as Consul to London, was rejected by a vote of 29 to 11.—J. O'Sullivan's nomination as Charge to Portugal, was confirmed by a vote of 26 to 17. A motion was, soon after, made to reconsider the vote confirming Mr. O'Sullivan, but we are not advised as to the result.

The Nebraska Bill was up in both Houses, yesterday.

HARPERS' MAGAZINE, for February, is like itself again. The first two articles, From Belgrade to Bucharest, and Life in Paris, are copiously illustrated. Abbott's Life of Napoleon, and the NEWCOMES are continued. The Life and Times of Madame de Staël, and numerous other articles, with the Monthly Record of Current Events and the Editor's Drawer, make an exceedingly interesting number. For sale by A. WHITTEMORE & CO.

ANTI-NEBRASKA.—The Anti-Nebraska meeting at Kenosha, last Tuesday evening, was well attended. Able speeches were made, and strong resolutions adopted against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. We are glad to see the action of the Assembly on Dr. Bartlett's Resolutions. Now, let the Senate second this action, and the voice of Wisconsin will be heard at Washington.

MARTIN KOSZTA.—The Chicago Press announces that Martin Koszta, who was rescued from Austrian tyranny by Capt. Ingraham, has arrived in that city, with the intention of making it his home. He came at the solicitation of different individuals of Chicago, one of whom sent him fifty dollars, to defray his expenses.

MARYLAND.—The Legislature of this State have reelected Mr. Pearce U. S. Senator for six years.

The Liquor Law has been amended in the House so as to prevent its going into operation until May, 1856, and not until after its direct approval by the vote of the people.

HONOR A POOR RELIANCE.—Some of the opposers of the Prohibitory Liquor Law, professed, at the opening of the session, to be willing to give the Law a fair chance, and let its merits be fairly met and discussed. The report of the Assembly proceedings shows how little reliance is to be placed on such professions.

EASY TO FIND OUT.—We suggest to those ladies, who yesterday expressed so much anxiety to know how we could eat, that if they will provide a good dinner, and invite us to it in season to give us sufficient time to whet our appetite, we we will give them a practical illustration of how it is done.

CONNECTICUT.—The Whig Convention of this State met at New Haven yesterday, and nominated Henry Dutton, of New Haven, for Governor; Alex. Holley, Lieut. Gov.; Alex. H. Pierce, Sec'y of State; D. W. Camp, Treasurer; John Dunlap, Controller.

CANAL ENLARGEMENT.—The principal cities in New York gave a large majority, yesterday, for amendments to their Constitution and the enlargement of the Canal. Buffalo gave 10,000 majority.

BATTLE.—A great battle has taken place between the Turks and the Russians, at Kalafat, which resulted in the triumph of the former.

The Turks have re-taken the Islands on the Lower Danube.

MORE TESTIMONY.—The Wisconsin Democrat, at Manitowoc, and the Sea Bote, of this city, both German papers, and the Potosi Republican, all oppose the Nebraska Bill.

WE are indebted to Senator DODGE for a volume of Sketches accompanying the Report of Coast Surrey for 1851. The "old veteran" remembers us frequently.

SAILED.—The Arabia sailed from Boston for Liverpool, yesterday. Among the passengers were Bishop Fitzpatrick and Rev. Dr. Haskins.

THE Convention of vessel-owners, which was to have been held at Detroit on the 15th of this month, has been postponed to the first of March.

PACIFIC R. R.—Gen. Henderson, of Texas, has subscribed $400,000 to the Pacific Railroad.

DAVID WILMOT, of Proviso notoriety, is actively engaged against the Nebraska Bill.

FLOUR was sold in Buffalo, on Saturday last, at $11,50 per bbl.

Bold Attempt.—A bold attempt to carry off a lady was made by a rascal a few evenings since. The young lady is the daughter of one of our most respectable citizens. The parents had retired to bed, leaving a young gentleman and their daughter in the parlor. After a short conversation the young man rose to leave, and the young lady accompanied him to the door. After bidding each other good night, he departed for his residence, while she fastened the door for the night. She had secured the bolt, and was returning to the parlor when she heard faint raps at the door. Supposing that the gentleman had forgotten something and had returned, she opened the door. Standing upon the steps was a man, taller than the one who had just left, with a white handkerchief tied over his face.

Thinking it to be her brother, she laughed and spoke his name. But as she received no answer she concluded it was her cousin, who is fond of joking, and accordingly pronounced his name. Still she received no response. Upon which she asked him to come in, still believing it to be one of her relations, and received an answer that he did not wish to come in. The voice sounded familiar, yet she could not recollect the person, and she advanced to pull the handkerchief from his face. At this moment the villain grasped her by the throat to prevent her screaming, and tried to pull her out from the door. She grasped at the door handle first, then the casing, and saved herself. Taking his hand from her throat to assist in getting her hand off the door, the brute allowed her to scream for help, when the second fled.—When the father came to her, she was lying insensible in the door way.—Detroit Trib.

MADISON CORRESPONDENCE.

[REPORTED FOR THE FREE DEMOCRAT.]

MADISON, Tuesday, Feb. 14, 1854.

MR. EDITOR: In the SENATE, the following bills were read a third time and passed:

To legalize the acts of the town of Plover; to incorporate the Washington Iron Company; to authorize the town superintendent of the town of Denton to pay certain moneys; to appropriate moneys to Otis, to Jenkinson, and to Pickett; and to provide for the purchase of stationery.

A number of Assembly bills were read a first and second time.

A report was in circulation this morning, that an effort would be made to expel Mr. Beriah Brown from the Reporter's desk. But nothing was intimated in the Senate proceedings on that subject. It is now supposed that the affair between Senator Cary and Mr. Brown will be suffered to drop, notwithstanding the second editorial of Mr. Brown was decidedly more severe than the first. It would certainly be more wise to pass it by than to keep up an undignified quarrel.

In the ASSEMBLY—after prayer by Rev. Mr. Powers, and some contest about the reading of the journal, which finally was not read, and the offering and referring of several petitions and accounts—Mr. Hull (by way of a gentle hint, I presume,) moved that the rules be suspended to adopt a resolution to purchase a clock for the use of the Assembly.

Mr. Worthington thought if the present clock were let alone it might be good enough.

Mr. Hull urged the importance of his resolution, on the ground of the great variableness of the old time-piece.

Mr. Parkinson thought it kept very good time, as it kept along with his watch. He imagined the trouble was in the gentlemen's watches.

Mr. Hull wished to know if Mr. Parkinson's watch got suddenly ten minutes backward, as that clock did.

Mr. Knowlton testified that the clock had not been right since the session commenced.

Mr. Remington thought the way the time was wasted by the Assembly made it of very little consequence whether they had a clock or not.

The resolution was lost.

The resolution offered yesterday to instruct the Judiciary Committee to bring in a bill for the establishing of an Insane Asylum, was taken up and adopted.

Mr. Wheedon introduced a bill for a State Road

Mr. Atwater—a bill "to tax dogs."

Mr. Mitchel—a bill to amend section 3, chapter 504, of the Session Laws of 1852.

Mr J. L. V. Thomas—a bill to secure to farmers a passage-way across their farms when divided by public works.

Mr McCracken—a bill to vacate a road.

Mr. Knowlton reported on a bill for a canal from Fox to White River; also a bill to repeal certain acts; also a bill concerning suits, and one concerning fences.

Mr. John Smith reported engrossed bills.

Mr. M. J. Thomas reported on the subject of a Ship Canal around the Falls of Niagara, accompanied with a joint resolution to memorialize Congress for a grant of land to aid such a work, and moved the printing of 500 copies of the Report.

Mr. Remington opposed the printing because he was opposed to the principle of these public land grants.

Mr. Scott would like to see the report, and for that reason wished it printed, as its object is a work of great importance.

Mr. Noggle moved to amend, by striking out "500," and inserting "the usual number of"

Mr. Hale replied to Mr. Remington's objection, and opposed Mr. Noggle's amendment.

Mr. Lake would rather not vote for printing any number. He is opposed to all these land monopolies, and he wished to know where this matter originated.

Mr. Hale replied that the petition for it came from Racine, for even a good thing could come out of Nazareth.

Mr. Lake thought that the scheme was probably started from the prolific brain of the gentleman who headed the petition,

Mr. M. J. Thomas advocated it on the ground that such a work is national, and it might be useful in a war.

Mr. Noggle wished enough of the report printed that members might all read it; but he would not have more than enough for that purpose.

Mr. Orton was in favor of 500 copies, because other States ought to be advised of the movement. He considered it as important a proposition as any that has come before the Legislature this session.

Mr Noggle said: If the gentleman will show that the additional printing will remove a single stone, or construct the least part of the work, he might vote with him.

Mr Orton replied, that two years ago the Legislature of Tennessee asked Congress to improve the navigation about the falls of the Ohio, and their Governor forwarded the proposition to this and other States. He closed with a sharp shot at Mr. Noggle.

Mr. Noggle's amendment was lost, and 500 copies were ordered to be printed.

The resolution proposed yesterday by Mr. Worthington, to change the hour of meeting to 9 o'clock every morning, instead of 10, was taken up for consideration.

Mr. M. J. Thomas moved to amend by making it 9½ o'clock A.M. Lost.

The yeas and nays were demanded, and resulted in ayes 36, noes 31, on the original resolution.

The Speaker said it required a vote of two thirds, and therefore the resolution was lost.

Mr. Remington said: This is not to suspend a rule. It is to repeal it, which does not require a two-thirds vote. He took an appeal, therefore, from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. Hull, with considerable warmth, said: There is more in this movement than appears on the surface. It is the basest attempt that a majority in a legislative body was ever guilty of.

Mr. Knowlton said: This is an important question, and I think the decision of the Chair correct. We have adopted this rule for our own government, and we have a right to say what shall be the number necessary to change it.

Mr. Lees spoke earnestly against the appeal.

Mr. Remington said he agreed with gentlemen so far as their arguments applied to suspending or amending a rule, but not in the case of repealing a rule.

Mr. Orton thought the rule was explicit enough, and that it requires two thirds to repeal. He had an idea that this was to bear upon the question of a Prohibitory Liquor Bill. He was in favor of the law, but opposed to all tricks to carry it.

Mr. Donaldson said: I shall support the decision of the Chair. But gentlemen have intimated that this motion is a trick. I favor the Prohibitory Law, but I wish to meet the question fairly, and I know of no such design as is imputed.

The vote was then taken by ayes and noes on the appeal, and the decision of the Chair was sustained, with only two negative votes, by Messrs. Baker and Remington.

Mr. Noggle reported a bill concerning some amendment of the Revised Statutes.

Mr. Hale reported back the bill to provide additional compensation to the Clerks of the Circuit Courts, with a recommendation that it pass.

Mr. Worthington asked the reasons calling for such a bill.

Mr. Tallmadge explained why he had introduced it. It was in consequence of the complaints of inadequate compensation.

Mr. Noggle said he had not yet heard a good reason for this bill. He thought the Clerks had already a sufficiency for their services.

Mr. Scott said he also was inclined to vote against the bill.

Mr. Orton replied to Mr. Noggle. He did not know how it was in Rock, but he knew the Clerk in Dane does not get enough. His remarks were exceedingly sarcastic against Mr. Noggle.

Mr. Hale explained why he considered the bill a just one.

Mr. Harrington expressed his disapproval of the bill.

Mr. Noggle: I, sometimes, am too quick in my movements on the side of economy, as it is very apt to start up one or two of my friends in opposition to the views I may propose. I should, however, like to see this matter tested by the resignation, at this time, of the Clerk of Dane County, and another election called, to see if there would not be competent men candidates for the office. In my county the gentleman who had the office sold out his interest in it to another who had once before held the office and knew its worth.

Mr. M. J Thomas wished to know how much he got for it.

Mr. Noggle replied that he got enough to take him to New York, and keep him while there. He proceeded to say that he knew Dane County had, in this Legislature, an honorable and excellent representation, and one of them a man, than whom there was none more eloquent in the House. He, however, regretted that that gentleman allowed himself to keep in such bad temper.

Mr. Scott said the question was not whether the Clerk may, in some Court proceedings, get but little, but whether, in the aggregate of the year, he makes out a good salary.

Mr. J. L. V. Thomas made an explanation of the matter respecting the gentleman to whom Mr. Noggle had alluded, as disposing of the Clerkship to another, and said he was detained in New York by sickness. He moved an amendment to the bill so as to except Rock County from its operation.

The amendment in this stage of the bill requiring unanimity, and objection being made, the motion was lost.

Mr. Orton replied again to Mr. Noggle, with increased severity.

Mr Wheeler: I ask it as a matter of courtesy that the Assembly allow my county, Richland, to be exempted from the operation of the bill.

Objection was made.

Dr. Bartlett: Walworth County does not ask, nor need this bill, and I think it should be referred back to a Committee with instructions to except those counties where the fees are enough to secure competent Clerks.

Mr. Wheeler: I am sorry to vote against the bill, but I shall be forced to do it in its present shape. I move its reference to a select committee.

Mr. Noggle opposed the reference and made a reply to his colleague, Mr. Thomas.

Mr Estabrook: I am decidedly opposed to this bill. In our County the Clerk has a fat office.

Mr. Wheeler urged the reference. He was sorry to see bills take these personal turns.

Mr. Terhune said the bill would be a matter of economy. Now there exists a provision by which Clerks do have their pay increased, and this bill would save this extra allowance being called for.

The yeas and nays being ordered on the question of reference, the motion was lost—ayes 22, nays 42.

Mr. McIndoe: I do hope that the House will allow counties to be excepted which desire it.

The ayes and nays being ordered on the question of the passage of the bill, it was lost; ayes 19, noes 45.

Mr. Barns reported enrolled bills.

Mr. Remington moved that the Prohibitory Liquor bill be made the order of the day for Monday, and for every day after until disposed of. But the Speaker ruled the the motion out of order.

The Senate bill, making appropriations to Messrs. Gleason and Sherwood, which had been returned to the Senate with an amendment striking out the words "for thirty days service," was returned to the House, the Senate refusing to concur in the amendment, whereupon the Assembly receded.

On the bill appropriating $652.28 to certain persons who had separate claims, the question of the constitutionality of such a bill was raised by Mr. Donaldson.

Mr. Hull thought it constitutional.

Mr. Hale said he had consulted the Attorney General on the subject, and he understood him that it was constitutional.

Mr. Donaldson said that heretofore the Assembly had always decided against the constitutionality of such bills when the question was raised.

Mr. Worthington read the clause of the Constitution, forbidding the incorporating into the same bill different private or local objects, and argued against acting upon these appropriations in their present questionable shape.

Mr. Hull regarded an appropriation bill neither a private nor a local bill, and therefore this bill is constitutional.

Mr. Worthington: I am not yet convinced. I do regard this a private bill, and I am opposed to all omnibus bills.

Mr. Davis said the Com. had only incorporated in the bill matters of one class that would not be probably objected to. There is really but one subject, viz: the appropriation of moneys.

Mr. Lake: Being one of the Committee on Claims, I say all the objections made have no foundation in fact. I claim to be a Constitutional Lawyer.

The bill was then passed by yeas 39, nays 21.

Mr. Barns reported an enrolled bill.

Mr. Barney moved the rules be suspended for a resolution to grant the Hall this evening for a lecture by Mr. Samuel W. Hewitt, on the subject of Temperance. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Remington made another effort to get his motion to make the Prohibitory bill the order of the day for Monday next, but the Speaker still ruled him out of order.

Mr. McIndoe moved a suspension of the rules in order to pass the motion of Mr. Remington.

Mr. Hull got the floor, and moved an adjournment till 3 P. M.—carried.

Afternoon Session.

Mr. Hull, having the floor on the motion of Mr. McIndoe to suspend the rules for Mr. Remington's motion to be considered, said he would wait until he saw whether the rules would be suspended before he would make his remarks.

Mr. Remington argued the motion to suspend.

Mr. Crawford moved a call of the House; not seconded.

The Rules were then suspended by yeas 40 to noes 19.

Mr. Hull then moved to amend the motion of Mr. Remington, to substitute for the Prohibitory bill the one to provide for taxing all the the property in the State. He argued that it was a much more important bill than the Prohibitory bill. The latter would only be a waste of time and the former was necessary and all important.

Mr. Crawford. I think the bill relative to Dane County Court has been postponed to next Monday.

Leave of absence was asked for and granted to Messrs. Rich and Earnest.

Mr. M. J. Thomas moved a call of the House. This was seconded and ordered, and more than a quorum being present Mr. McIndoe moved that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with. On this the yeas and nays were demanded and resulted in yeas 36 noes 26 upon which the Speaker decided that the call must proceed, the majority not being enough under the rule.

The call was continued until the Sergeant at arms reported, and then Mr. McGarry moved a suspension of the call, which was carried.

On Mr. Hull's amendment the yeas and nays were then ordered.

Mr. Hull said he had offered his amendment in good faith, and he wished members would show their hands, and let it be seen whether they regard the Prohibitory Bill more important than the tax bill. They were not only delaying the most important measure of the session.

Mr. Noggle. If the gentleman will only keep still he will find out all about it.

Mr. McIndoe could not vote for the amendment but he was perfectly willing to take up the tax bill at once. There was time for it to be considered and passed before next Monday.

Mr. Mitchel expressed his opposition to the amendment, as thrown in to thwart the will of the people.

Mr. Remington. It is very evident who intend to make delay and prevent business. He remarked upon the plea which gentlemen made about their good faith. Who had doubted their good faith? What would be the inference it a man should be riding through the street pleading that he did not steal the horse he was riding. He presumed all were acting in good faith. As to the question of time, the tax bill will come up in its regular order before next Monday.

In what spirit are we to meet this question of a Prohibitory Law? Is it to be prevented by stratagem, by blackguardism and such means, or in an open, fair and honorable discussion?

Mr. Crawford. The gentleman from Sauk (Mr. Remington) rises and speaks with all the grace of a minister in the pulpit, and yet he is the one who has thrown this firebrand into this House.

Mr. Hull. I do not believe there is a gentleman on this floor who is a blackguard. (Quite a bull, Mr. Hull.—Reporter). He then went on to speak in earnest and warm terms against the meeting held a few nights ago, of the friends of the Prohibitory Bill. And he again insisted on the tax bill being taken up first and disposed of.

Mr. Donaldson. I feel as much interest for the tax bill as any gentleman in this House; but still I cannot vote for the amendment. The Prohibitory Bill stands now the sixth in order upon the regular file, and we would arrive at it in all probability long before Monday next, but we are willing to delay it until then, giving this week to other matters.

Mr. Crawford moved that the whole subject be laid upon the table. Lost.

Mr Rosenthal asked the amendment might be stated again.

On Mr. Hull's amendment the vote being taken by ayes and noes, the amendment was lost by ayes 22 and noes 43.

Mr. Donaldson. In the spirit of conciliation I move to amend by making it the order for the afternoons of Monday and succeeding days, and leave the morning for other business

Mr. M. J. Thomas moved to amend the amendment so as to substitute "March 13th," for "next Monday." He said he did offer this in good faith.

Mr Gary—I would ask the gentlemen when he expects the Legislature to adjourn.

Mr. M J. Thomas replied, about the 15th of April, if my amendment prevails, but not before the 15th of May if this subject is to come up next Monday.

Mr Donaldson opposed the amendment. He said that the Bank Bill of the last Legislature was taken up and discussed fully day after day until it was disposed of.

Mr. Earnest replied to Mr. Donaldson, and asked how long the Bank Bill was under discussion.

Mr Donaldson answered that it was about five weeks.

Mr. Lake—I do not wish to talk much about this. But I will say that I think there is considerable analogy between the Bank bill and this bill. They were both voted upon by the people, and therefore this one, as that one was, is of primary importance.

Mr. Remington commenced to speak, but before he got out his first sentence, the Speaker told him he must keep himself to the question of the amendment. I thank the Speaker, said Mr. R., for prompting me to keep in order.—That I was intending to do. These things are proposed to kill the measure, and therefore it is legitimate to speak of them in this aspect

The amendment was then put to the House and lost.

Mr. Crawford moved to amend the amendment by postponing to July the 4th. The Speaker decided that this was not an amendment, but that it was in order as a distinct proposition. Upon it the yeas and nays were called and ordered, and Mr. Crawford's motion was lost by ayes 15—noes 48.

A motion was here made to adjourn. Lost.

The ayes and noes were demanded on Mr. Donaldson's amendment.

Mr. Crawford moved to lay it on the table one week. Lost.

Mr. Donaldson's amendment was then carried by ayes 42—noes 21.

The question then recurring upon Mr. Remington's motion as amended, making the bill the order of the day for Monday afternoon next and each succeeding afternoon, until disposed of, Mr. Barney took the floor, and said it was entirely useless to strive against this majority. It was working against the wind. It was kicking against the pricks. But gentlemen ought to show some sympathy, no, not sympathy, we don't want that, but some generosity to the minority, who asked this first favor. Mr. B. spoke with much earnestness, and his warm declamation caused some amusement.

The yeas and nays were demanded and ordered.

Mr. M. J. Thomas then moved to substitute the bill concerning Swamp Lands for the Prohibitory bill.

Mr. Gary and Mr. Scott opposed the amendment. Mr. Scott said that Mr. Donaldson's amendment was a fair compromise, and it ought to give satisfaction to the gentlemen.

Mr. M. J. Thomas replied to Mr. Scott.

Mr. Knowlton said—This amendment is not calculated to forward the business of the House. This Prohibitory bill has to be acted upon, and it is better to fix a day certain for it.

The amendment was then lost.

Mr. Crawford moved that Assembly bill No. 209 be inserted in place of the Prohibitory bill. Lost.

The vote on Mr. Remington's motion was then taken, and resulted in ayes 44 and noes 23, as follows:

AYES—Allen, Atwater, Baker, Barnes, Bartlett, Colley, Davis, Donaldson, Estabrook, Ennis, Gary, Gibson, Hale, Harrington, Hart, Head, Jeffrey, Ketchum, Knowlton, Lake, Matts, McCracken, McIndoe, Mitchell, Nichols, Noggle, Orton, Parkinson, Remington, Rich, Rood, Scott, Spaford, Spaulding, Jesse Smith, John Smith, Terhune, J. L. V. Thomas, Tosy, Topliff, Wheeler, Whiting, Worthington, Young—44

NOES—Barney, Beecroft, Boener, Bernhart, Crawford, Earnest, Fox, Hadley, Hagerty, Hull, Kyle, Lavis, Mattes, McCormick, Morrison, Norton, O'Neil, Rosenthal, Talmadge, M. J. Thomas, Torbert, Wheedon, Horn, Speaker—23.

Upon which the Speaker decided that the motion was lost, as the majority did not number two-thirds, as required by the rules for changing order of business.

Mr. Donaldson asked if the rules were not suspended for the very purpose of acting on this motion.

The Speaker insisted that the suspension did not apply to the case any further than to allow the motion to be entertained.

A motion for adjournment was lost.

Mr. Barnes reported from the committee on enrolled bills.

Mr. Bernhardt moved to adjourn. Carried.

The above proceedings need no comment and I make none. M. D.

The Nebraska resolutions were taken up M Horn offered a substitute accusing abolitionists and disunionists of opening agitation, by opposing the just Nebraska bill, offering the right to slave holders to enter the territories and endorsing the conduct of Senator Douglass. The rest of the morning was spent in discussing various motions principally for delay in taking the vote.

The discussion of various questions to postpone, amend, substitute, &c., continued many members taking part in it with earnestness—Mr Horn,s substitute was laid on the table without a count.

Mr. Knowlton offered a substitute resolution against agitation and in favor of adherence to compromise. On this the debate continued at great length. The substitute was lost—34 to 6. The previous question was finally called and ordered, and the resolutions were ordered to be engrossed by a vote of 47 to 26. Mr M J Thomas moved to take up bill No. 105—the legislative bill—two-thirds voting in favor, the bill was taken up, and Assembly adjourned

DR. BRISBANE'S LECTURE.—Dr Brisbane in compliance with previous invitation, delivered a lecture in the Assembly Hall, last evening, on the subject of Slavery. Through some failure in giving notice of the lecture, his audience, though respectable in size, was much much smaller than it would otherwise have been. The lecture was an excellent one. A South Carolinian by birth, the son of a slave holder and during a portion of his life, a slave holder himself, Dr. B. can speak of this great national wrong from personal experience—With the generosity of a true philanthropist, he nobly manumitted his slaves, and left his native State for a Northern home, where he would not be compelled to see the image of God bought and sold like a brute, outraged and spit upon. Such a man has a right to speak out on the subject of Slavery; but he is not one of the ranting kind of abolitionists.

He pities the slave holder, quite as much as the slave, but protests against blighting the broad and fertile territories west of the Mississippi, by allowing the extension of the system contemplated in the Nebraska bill. He also spoke of the absurdity of supposing that 350,000 slave holders,—for they do not exceed that number—could sever the bonds of the union, and truly said, that if the northern States were as zealous for liberty, as the south is for slavery this barbaric institution could never pass beyond its present limits, and would soon cease to be tolerated, even where it now exists.—Madison Journal

The Nebraska Bill.—The attempt of Senator Douglas, to introduce Slavery into the new Territory about being organized, has set public opinion in the North West, decidedly against him and his vile scheme. And from this fact, the Congress of the U. S., should shape their actions in regard to so important a matter—the eventually creating of new States in the Great West. In behalf of the non-extension of Slavery, we ask would California be better were it engrafted in her State Constitution; we emphatically answer no! A similar attempt to extend slavery so far West as the Pacific, was made in Congress at the organization of the Territory. There are our abolition motions—To Slavery, where it now is, we have no objections—but we are against any attempt to introduce it in the formation of a country which will soon be populously settled by a free and enlightened people, and which will soon be asking for admission into this glorious Union.—Potosi Republican.

A German by the name of Newhouse was detected last night in stealing a barrel of pork from the market of M. O. Bennett, and on being arrested and his wagon examined, the week's "Wash" of the City Hotel was found carefully stowed away in it. Bedini—Wild Maggie—Rev. Mr. Furness—His Sermon—The Mystery of the Gospel—The "Boon Children"—Signorina Valantini.

NEW YORK, February 7, 1854.

FRIEND B.—Bedini has finally left the shores of America. His friends were fearful of a mob or brutal violence, if he embarked from the wharf; so, attended by a company of Catholic clergymen, he went to Staten Island. The Active was chartered by the special deputy of the U. S. Marshal to proceed there and take him to the steamer Atlantic when she came along. One booming gun was fired, and he was on his way to the scenes of his former days. The Italians of our city have held several meetings to express their disapprobation of his course, which they have done in unmeasured terms.—One in particular, Signor Gagani, testified to charges against him, many of which he was perfectly cognizant of, as he had previously watched his steps in his own country. Whether he is guilty or not, of the atrocities alleged to have been committed by his instigations, his own conscience will be his greatest condemner or rewarder.

There has been considerable discussion here as to the identity of Mr. Pease's "Wild Maggie," of whom I have frequently written. A few days since, a man made a bold assertion, in the Tribune, that there had been a great deception practiced on the public by Mr. Pease and Solon Robinson in regard to her; that the one who sang in public at their concerts was not the original child, who had been rescued from a life of sin and wickedness. But, from the affidavits of Maggie's father, and numerous other responsible persons, it was afterwards shown that the accuser tried by every possible means to gain possession of her; but, being baffled in his attempts, he wished to prejudice the people against Mr. Pease and his Mission. Every one who labors for the good of others, has to bear persecutions in proportion to his success; yet the true-hearted reformer toils on unceasingly, even though, for the time, he may be crowned with a plait of thorns, instead of ivy.

Rev. Mr. Furness, of Philadelphia, who gives the next Anti-Slavery Lecture, was invited by numerous Christian friends, who differed from him in religious tenets, to preach last Sunday afternoon in Rev. Mr. Chapin's church. They revered his boldness in combatting known sins and personal errors, and were willing to extend the right hand of fellowship to him, on the broad platform of love to God and all mankind. Mr. Furness is a middle-aged, noble-looking man, has a benevolent, speaking countenance, and a reputation for eloquence which he well sustains. He has not that impassioned flow of soul, that intensified glowing fire, that seems to be inwrought in the very soul of Henry Ward Beecher, neither the flowery style of Wendell Phillips or Channing; but his sermon was chaste, elevated, elegant, and free from vulgarisms or common place expressions. He lifted your soul above the massive arches, and led you to forget that you were worshipping God in a gorgeous temple. I have seldom heard a better sermon, and should like to give it to you entire, for I took full notes, but will transcribe but a few of his soul elevating thoughts. The text was from Collossians—"The glory of this mystery, which is Christ, in you the hope of glory."

He said that the gospel of Jesus Christ is a profound mystery, full of the deep things of God. This is daily proclaimed by the thousand sects, each of which has a different idea with reference to its import. Yet none can understand it thoroughly. On one occasion, the disciples of Jesus asked him why he spake in parables. His answer was, You are able to understand the mysteries of the kingdom, but the people are unable to do so. These parables were the pictorial hints of the deep and hidden things—the mysterious symbols of his religion. Something of this mystery may be caught by the little child, because he is not disabled by the sins of manhood, is unperverted by the corrupt ways of the world, and is not deaf and stone-blind to everything that does not serve his pleasure, interest or pride. Christ declared that his kingdom was hid, barred and bolted to all those who did not become like little children—that what was hidden from the wise and prudent was revealed to babes. Still, there are mysteries open only to angels' eyes, which will ever be closed to human vision.

Men have dived into the bowels of the earth, and made the metals thereof subservient to their purposes. They have measured the planetary spaces, and compassed the earth's surface. Mysteries have always presented the greatest attractions. Though baffled and bewildered, the mind returns again and again to their investigation. The mind could not endure a religion without a mystery about it. It will invent one, when it cannot find one already. But false mysteries forbid inquiries, while true mysteries invite them. The question arises, what is the work, effect and purpose of the gospel of Christ? The end must be good. We cannot tell the specific purpose of the creation of any human being, much less, that of Christ. Every atom in creation has a mystery about it. We give a very learned name to coal as fuel; but none who saw the forests of which it has been made would have surmised that such an effect would be produced from such a cause. A portion of the light which falls on the human eye has been thousands of years coming to the earth, yet what an office it fills, as it touches the springs of power, the love of knowledge, the religion of the human soul.

Whether Christ came into the world for its sake, or the world was created for him, to furnish a frame for the picture of his God-like being—who can tell? Or who can know but that the consequence extends to other spheres, to which his whole influence on the present human race shall be but an incident? Yet some speak as though they understood the whole scheme, the whole plan of salvation. The mystery and glory of Christ must be in you, through the full power of his God-like nature and goodness, baptized into his love, in fellowship with his saints. The great work of Christianity is to cultivate an intimate and personal reference for Christ. The world has been better pleased with creeds, theologies, sacraments, ecclesiastical organs. When Christ was on earth, he propounded no creeds, he elaborated no new system of theology, he established no institutions. He was like an elemental force of nature incarnated, free and simple as the wind, unrestricted by times and places. He gave no creeds and formulas to his most intimate friends. He did not even baptize them, nor indoctrinate them into his mysteries, for the last question they, in their confusion, asked, was: "Lord, wilt thou now restore the kingdom to Israel?" The first disciples, after his departure, remembered his love and goodness, became illustrious apostles of truth and righteousness, because he was in them a hope of glory, and led them to a higher fount of love. If we are to be rescued from cunning, selfishness, worldliness, appetites, &c., it must be by an infusion of his spirit. Verbal religion and verbal morality are of no avail. True, they are full of beauty, and, if adopted, would make this earth heaven. Still, they are too often a dead letter, lifeless marble. If their observance endanger our ease and popularity, we denounce a zeal for their authority as fanaticism and abstractions. Public men and politicians may quote the Golden Rule, but if it were really made of gold or helped men to make gold, which it does not, there would be no need of quoting it, and they would not then sustain laws which outrage it shamefully. The real Christ, the Christ of the New Testament, the Christ, the thought of whom was such a source of power and life to his immediate friends, has all but vanished out of Christendom, behind the thick darkness of a false Theology.

Another pertinent question, is, how are we to have this pure faith, active and commanding our life? We must have his life in us, and we must study humanitarian truths. He must be the life of our life, the light of our understandings, the hope of imperishable glory. We cannot learn it in the popular institutions of the day. A man may give his money and his time to causes, from a desire to stand well with those about him. But, when the return comes speedily in popularity and applause, we have reason to suppose that the motive may be alloyed, especially, if we shrink from the battle field where freedom and the trampling down of the cause of the oppressed is at stake. Men dispute about the essentials of piety, but they mistake the dead letter for the eternal spirit, the tithes of mint, anise and cumin, while they pass over justice and the weightier matters of the law.

While listening to his sermon, we could but feel what a glorious thing it would be if all Christendom bowed to the same God, and worshipped together at the same shrine, bringing a burst offering of a grateful and contrite spirit, with the Golden Rule for the chief creed.—Earth would indeed be an Eden, and we should be loth to leave it for the supernal sphere.

Recent news from Cuba shows that the Spanish powers have no design to relinquish this island to the U. States, or to substitute free for slave labor.

The "Boon Children" have had a successful run here. Last night was their benefit. They are beautiful girls, apparently about 10 or 12 years of age, and have splendid talents for the stage. They represented scenes from Brutus and Cassius, from Romeo and Juliett, from the Merchant of Venice, and School for Scandal. They were the only actors, and gave only those parts in which the principal characters appear conspicuously. The celebrated Signorina Valantini—as the bill described her—sang several pieces. She was just the reverse in configuration of what we might suppose in a "Spirituelle" singer; was broad as she was tall, and, in my humble estimation, just fitted by nature to cry "fish" in the market places. Almost every one was convulsed with laughter at her attempts at warbling. But she probably, like all other artists, has her clique of admirers. She sang one song—"I'm single yet,"—and, from the dubious glances of many of the gentlemen present, she will probably remain thus, as far as they are concerned.

One advantage, of New York life, is, that we see a constant panorama of people of every mental and physical shade. Nothing is so "outre" here but it has its counterpart.—One can't get out of fashion, let them wear or say what they will, in this great Emporium of all Nations. Adieu, L. F. F.

THE FAR-FAMED MEDICINE!
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS!

THESE PILLS being composed entirely of medicinal herbs are of a most harmless nature, while the extraordinary virtues they possess have rendered them universally popular in nearly every part of the world. The immense success they have met with throughout the State is most extraordinary, owing, it is presumed, to their wonderful efficacy in the cure of Bilious complaints and disorders of the Liver and Stomach. Persons who persevere in using them in accordance with the directions, seldom fail in being restored to health.

Weakness and Debility,—Restoration to Health of a Gentleman, aged 63, when at Death's Door.

Copy of a Letter from the Rev. Charles Smith, dated Norton, St. Philips, near Bath, Somersetshire, Aug. 17, 1853.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,—

Sir: A Mr. Joseph Paxton, formerly a resident of this place, had been in a declining state of health for upward of three years, gradually wasting away to a shadow by nightly perspirations and want of appetite, which caused great uneasiness to his friends, as he had consulted various medical men in Bath, without effect. He at last used your Pills, and under Providence was restored to health by these means. He lately emigrated to New York, and has just written to say, that he was never better in health, and desired me to acquaint you with the circumstance. I ought also to mention, that my wife had derived great benefit from the use of your Pills.

I remain, sir, yours respectfully,
CHAS. SMITH, Dissenting Minister.

A Permanent Cure of a Diseased Liver, of Many Years' Duration.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Gamis, Chemist, Yeovil, to Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir, In this district your Pills command a more extensive sale than any other proprietary medicine before the public. As a proof of their efficacy in Liver and Bilious Complaints, I may mention the following case. A lady of this town, with whom I am personally acquainted, for years was a severe sufferer from disease of the Liver and digestive organs. Her medical attendant assured her that he could do nothing to relieve her sufferings, and it was not likely she could survive many months. This announcement naturally caused great alarm among her friends and relations, and they induced her to make a trial of your Pills, which so improved her general health, that she was induced to continue them until she received a perfect cure. This was twelve months ago, and she has not experienced any symptoms of relapse, and often declares that your Pills have been the means of saving her life.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,
July 2d, 1853. (Signed) J. GAMIS.

These celebrated Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints.

Ague, Asthma, Bilious Complaints, Blotches on the Skin, Bowel complaints, Colics, Constipation of the Bowels, Consumption, Debility, Dropsy, Dysentery, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fevers of all kinds, Fits, Gout, Head ache, Indigestion, Inflammation, Jaundice, Liver Complaints, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Retention of Urine, Scrofula or King's Evil, Sore Throats, Stone & gravel, Secondary symptoms, Tic Doloureux, Tumors, Ulcers, Venereal Affections, Worms of all kinds, Weakness from whatever cause, &c , &c.

Sold at the establishment of Professor HOLLOWAY, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar,) London, and also at his House in New York. Orders for Medicines in the States, addressed "T. HOLLOWAY, New York," will receive due attention. Sold also also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the United States, in Boxes at 37½ cts., 87 cts. and $1 50 cts. each. The Lady Typesetter.

BY T. D. CURTIS.

See her standing at the "case,
Looking sweet and bland;
Gracefully she moves her head,
Rapidly goes her hand,
Picking up the slender types,
Putting them in the stick—
Hear them rattle against the steel,
Click—click—click!

When the tottering line is "set,"
She "spaces" it even and nice,
Nimbly the "lead" goes into its place,
The "rule" is drawn in a trice.
Then her eye the copy devours
And firm she holds her "stick"—
From box to box her fingers fly,
Pick—pick—pick!

When "distribution" time has come,
She handles well the "matter,"
The types fall into the empty "case,"
Scatter—scatter—scatter!
And steadily and drearily
She flings the letters round
With visions dancing through her brain
To the music of the sound.

And thus is growing her mind
Sweet fruit for coming years,
That she in bitterness so long
Has watered with her tears.
For Thought is bursting into bloom,
Beneath the rays of Right,
And lo, 'tis waking from the chill
Of long and dreary night.

EPIGRAMS.—"Reply to Miss Charlotte Ness, who inquired the meaning of the logical terms Abstract and Concrete.

'Say what is Abstract, what Concrete?
Their difference define,'
'They both in one fair person meet,
And that, dear maid, is thine.'
'How so?' The riddle pray undo,
'I thus your wish express,
For when I lovely Charlotte view,
I then view lovely Ness.'

On a certain D. D. (who from a peculiarity in his walk, had acquired the sobriquet of Dr. Toe) being jilted by Miss H—, who eloped with her father's footman:—

'Twixt Footman Sam and Doctor Toe
A controversy fell
Which should prevail against his foe,
And bear away the belle.
The lady chose the footman's heart
Say who can wonder? no man;
The whole prevailed above the part,
'Twas Foot man versus Toe man.'
—Notes and Queries.

A person deploring the effect of tight lacing said it was pitiful to see so many young ladies waisting away.
